Serafino Leader – June 2016

2014 SERAFINO MALPAS VINEYARD SHIRAZ

Tony Love – 5 stars

Review from SA Weekend June 4-5 2016

From just a kilometer away, on slightly different soils, the Serafino 2014 Malpas Vineyard Shiraz ($45) has a very similar luxurious, drink-now profile with intense, dark colours, deep spice and soaked-in plum compote flavours, with lipsmacking fruit and a soft, suede like finish. Both are five stars in any language.

McLaren Vale is no pretender in its ways with cabernet in good years, and in the best hands it will impress as much as it does here in a Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Carmenere and Cabernet Franc cocktail that pours deep set, dark fruits and cassis in a warmer and richer mode than cooler regional styles. To taste it is eloquent, balanced and pleasing, the oak supportive while the finish has underlying power with a gentle exit.

Even-tempered Shiraz from McLaren Vale

Quality fruit. Clean as a whistle, lively, unencumbered. Free of spirit. Plum and dark berries with input from smoked spice. 100% attractive to drink. This is a style of wine to hang your hat on. High value, I'd argue.
