WINEMAKER NOTES

This wine is a blend of multiple parcels made using a range of techniques with the philosophy that each parcel will add something unique to the blend. Earlier picked parcels are either fully destemmed to maximise bright varietals or may undergo partial carbonic maceration. Later picked parcels are selected from low cropping old vines and may spend significantly more time on skins to add textural complexity to the final wine. The final blend being greater than the sum of its parts.
